

First time in its history National Level Writing Competition in Hindi was organized by ICAR-CIFE, Mumbai. Students of all fisheries colleges participated enthusiastically in it. The topics were relevant to the development of fishery and new consciousness among the students. All the articles written by the students were of excellent level.

This proves that if there is will, their best scientific writing can be done in Hindi too. Writers of five best essays were invited to the National Student's Convention held on 3-5 March 2017 for verbal Presentation of their essays. On the basis of their verbal presentation the Jury has decided following top positions -

1. Shubham Shekhar Soni - Fisheries Science College, Nagpur
2. Karun Kant Yadav - College of Fisheries Science, Pantnagar.
3. Saurabh Maurya - Fisheries College Kawardha,
Chhattisgarh, Kamdhenu University
4. Mohammed Nadeem Ansari - Nanaji Deshmukh Veterinary Science and fisheries University, Jabalpur (MP.)
5. Vidit Mishra - G. B. Pant Agriculture and Technology, University, College of Fishery Science

The Participants were given certificates and awards by the honourable chief guest. Writing competition has raised the interest of students in scientific writing in Hindi. The competition was completely successful in its objective.
