Empowering Tomorrow: Nurturing the young dreams through "Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao"

In a country so diverse as well as culturally rich as India, the value of girls' education cannot be emphasized and recognizing the importance of breaking down barriers & promoting gender equality, the Indian government commenced the Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao (Save the daughter, Educate the daughter) project in 2015. Hence, in such diverse tapestry of modern society, the phrase "Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao" has emerged as a rallying cry for change and empowerment. It roots in the belief that educating girls is not just a social responsibility but a necessity for progress, this initiative has sparked conversations and initiatives to bridge the gender gap in education. Today, as we navigate the complexities of a rapidly evolving world, it is imperative to explore the significance of girls' education in shaping the future.

Historically, girls' education has faced numerous challenges, from cultural biases to economic constraints. However, it strives to solve these stakes by promoting the idea that every girl has the right to education and deserves an equal opportunity to thrive. The initiative aims just not to safeguard the lives of female children but also to foster an environment where they can blossom intellectually. Education is not only about acquiring knowledge but rather a powerful tool for empowerment and when girls are educated, they are equipped with the skills & confidence to navigate the complexities of life, contribute to innovation, & advocate for positive social change. They become living examples in their communities, breaking the shackles of gender stereotypes and contributing to the socio-economic fabric of society.

One of the key aspects of the mentioned govt. scheme is to address the female foeticide & infanticide issues. It is also essential to resolve the challenges persisting such as gender-based violence, unequal access to resources and deeply ingrained stereotypes which continues to hinder the progress of girls' education. Emphasizing the importance of saving the girl child seeks to alter the societal mindsets that perpetuate gender-based discrimination and hence, various awareness campaigns & policy interventions can create an environment where the birth of a girl is celebrated and cherished.

In the context of today's society, the digital revolution has not only opened new avenues for learning but also recognizes the role of technology in making education accessible to girls, even in remote areas. Online learning platforms, digital resources, and educational apps have become powerful tools in leveling the playing field and ensuring that no girl is left behind. Therefore, it is crucial for policymakers, communities, and individuals to work collectively in addressing these issues & create an environment conducive to the holistic development of every girl.

"Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao" stands as a beacon of hope for the empowerment of girls in India. As the campaign progresses, it serves as a reminder that investing in girls' education is not just a moral imperative but a strategic step towards building a prosperous future for the entire nation.

उनके जैसे रहना करना सुनना सहना जीवन जीना

अपने छोटों की खुशियों पर ही

उनका रुझान सर्वाधिक होता है।।

जिम्मेदारी घर की सारी वह अपने कंधो पर रखते हैं।

परिवार के सम्मान की खातिर

काम सान देकर छोटों को कठिन कार्य स्वयं चुन लेते हैं।

भूलकर खुद का भला बुरा मन में सबकी खातिर

कहना सबका भला बुरा सब सुन लेते हैं।।

कभी कभी भले सख्त रहें पर हरदम

हृदय अति पवित्र और कोमल होता है।

पूर्व जन्म के पुण्योदय से ही बड़ा भाई जीवन में मिलता है।।

आसान नहीं होता है।

मां बाप का दूसरा चित्रण ही बड़े भाई का रूप होता है।।

माँ बाप मेरे असली भगवान

अच्छे समय में जिनका साथ है,
बुरे वक्त में भी मेरे माथे पर उन्ही का हाथ है,
वो सिर्फ मेरे माँ बाप है,
वो भगवान है,
जिनके दिल में मेरे लिए बस प्यार है,
उन पर मेरी जान निसार है,
ऊपर वाले का अनमोल उपहार है,
मेरे माँ बाप मेरे असली भगवान है,
मेरे भले की हमेशा बात करे,
मुझ पर अपनी जान निसार करे,
नि स्वार्थ रूप से काम करे,
मुझे दिल से प्यार करे,
मेरे लिए जो भगवान है,
वो मेरे माँ बाप है.....

MASTERPIECE

Doesn't fit the slot, failed trying the mock
Assuming joker in the pack
Stepping into other's shoes in a single stroke
Imbibing the fake with no strike

'Fake it or make it, never let that take it'
Scratching the mind to bond
As a special treasure in fond
However, clarity is the wand.

A broken chance awakes the quest
Tireless wheels striving hard is must
All that is chose though sunken in chaos
Just tossing the ways out of fuss.

No escape, no hideout
Face the music for no regret is left out
Once begun is begun
To get all or none but stick with fun

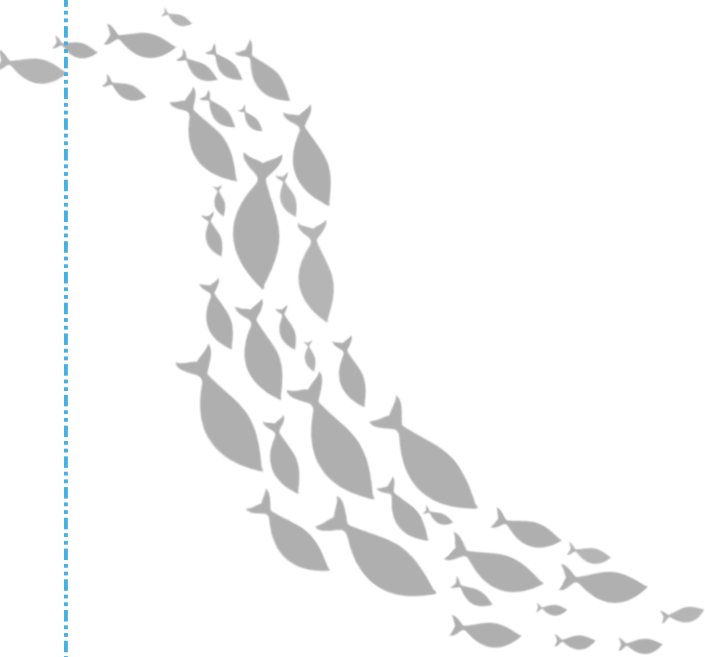

Million times once a chance
Time a mere invest before ends
Hold fast it, leaving behind never a victory
That's all the time plays history
Strong amidst the weak; still stretches to the peak
Stringent norms flashing trick; somehow tapers to seek.
Lackness shouts out when endeavour steps out
All it needs to hold uptight; just so tearing wind splits apart.
Tint of fear; lits off the cheer
Winter sustains though summer stays near.

Will changing climate takes a care?
While one step makes everything clear.

Standing in bravery resolves mystery
Unveiling the truth of faded memory, vividly daring the days of mystery
Perhaps misfortune stacks the heap at ease
Rise and fall plenish the work of masterpiece.

SOLITUDE

In the dark highway, there a bifurcated road where no one wants to be there

Neither small nor big, a quite lengthy road!

The pedestrian requires patience and courage,

Faced whatever it comes, tried to overcome

Happiness, unenvious and focus is the only key

Otherwise, faced the unwanted circumstances that doomed you

Though the road is dark and empty,

Murmuring of the lips is an excused

It's an opportunity, power and confident

Beyond, there is a beautiful place full of blooming roses.

Abstract A 30-day experiment was carried out to know responses of different weaning approaches to the growth and survival of Anabas testudineus larvae. A total of 10800 larvae (Avg. weight 0.016 ± 0.03 mg; 3DPH) were randomly distributed in nine treatments (triplicates), including two controls. The strategies are as follows: C1 (Control I): feeding with live food (LF) for 30 days and C2 (Control II): feeding with micro-particulate diet (MPD) for 30 days; T1: LF for 5 days and MPD for next 25 days; T2: LF for 10 days and MPD for next 20 days; T3: LF for 15 days and MPD for next 15 days; T4: LF for 20 days and MPD for next 10 days; T5: LF for 25 days and MPD for next 5 days; T6: LF for 5 days, then 25% LF replacement by MPD for next 5 days, 50% LF replacement by MPD for next 5 days, 75% LF replacement by MPD for next 5 days, and 100% LF replacement by MPD for next 10 days; and T7: LF for 10 days, then 25% LF replacement by MPD for next 5 days, 50% LF replacement by MPD for next 5 days, 75% LF replacement by MPD for next 5 days, and 100% LF replacement by MPD for next 5 days. Significantly ($p < 0.05$) higher WG and SGR were recorded in T2 (213.17 ± 0.32 , 23.98 ± 0.02) followed by T6, whereas the lowest was found in C2. Significantly higher ($p < 0.05$) percentage survival was manifested in the T7 (31.83 ± 0.22), followed by T2 (24.75 ± 0.13), and the lowest survival was observed in the C2. The digestive enzyme activities were found to be non-significant ($p > 0.05$) between different treatment groups. The alanine aminotransferase (ALT), aspartate aminotransferase (AST), lactate dehydrogenase (LDH), and malate dehydrogenase (MDH) were reported to be significantly higher ($p < 0.05$) in C2 (68.52 ± 0.08 , 19.55 ± 0.10 , 21.79 ± 0.04 , and 0.044 ± 0.01) followed by T1; however, their reduced level was observed in C1. The activity of superoxide dismutase (SOD), catalase (CAT), glucose, and cortisol levels was observed significantly ($p < 0.05$) higher in C2 and lower in C1 and T2. As per the finding, it can be recommended that
